

Date of Posting: July 31, 2019

Faculty Position Vacancy
University of Tsukuba
Tsukuba, Japan

Deadline for Applications: September 30 (Monday), 2019

The University of Tsukuba is inviting applicants for the position of Associate Professor or Assistant Professor in the field of Constitution and Comparative Constitution. We are interested in recruiting a scholar with distinguished research capability, ability to teach in English, and capability for administrative works.

Position Details

Position Title:	Associate Professor or Assistant Professor (Constitution and Comparative Constitution)
Number of Positions:	One
Position Type:	(1) Associate Professor (Full time, tenured position) (2) Assistant Professor (Tenure-track position for a five-year term. After the evaluation based on performance for five years, qualified candidates will be officially employed as a tenured faculty member.)
Institution & Location:	Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Tsukuba 1-1-1 Tennodai, Tsukuba, Ibaraki, Japan 305-8571

Position Description

General Description:	Teaching graduate courses in Master's and Doctoral Program, International Public Policy; Teaching undergraduate courses in the College of Social Sciences
Teaching Duties:	Teaching Assignments: "Constitution", "Seminar on Constitution" and other subjects (Master's and Doctoral Program in International Public Policy); "Constitution", "Comparative Constitution", "Seminar" and other subjects (College of Social Sciences); Related administrative duties
Compensation:	Work hours: Discretionary Labor system (Working hours are 7 hours 45 min per day, 5 days a week, a total of 38 hours 45 min per week basically. Start/end time and break can be altered with flexibility at the employee's discretion.) Days-off: Sundays, Saturdays, National holidays, and Dec.29 through Jan.3 Other: Participation in National Public Service Mutual Aid Employment Insurance available

Applications

General Qualifications:	Applicants must meet the following qualifications <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. LL.D. or Ph.D. (desirable)2. Qualified English publications in the field of Constitution and Comparative Constitution3. Qualified Japanese and English skills in teaching, advising students in research, and in administration4. Capability and willingness to conduct research on Constitution and Comparative Constitution in the context of digital governance and public policy research on problems caused by social changes brought about by the development of life sciences or AI research
Starting date	Earliest date between January 1, 2020 and March 16, 2020
Application Materials: (in English, unless noted otherwise)	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Curriculum vitae (with photo), including current residential address, e-mail address, undergraduate and postgraduate academic background, title of doctoral degree, and if applicable employment record2. List of all publications and presentations (grouped into the following categories: doctoral dissertation, academic books, peer-reviewed academic papers, the other academic papers, conference reports, research funds.)3. ① Associate Professor: Five (5) major off-prints written in English and/or Japanese (books/papers) published in the past five years. Photocopies are acceptable. ② Assistant Professor: Three (3) major off-prints written in English and/or Japanese (books/papers) published in the past five years. Photocopies are acceptable.4. Proposal on present and future research (approximately 1500 English words in length, any format)5. Statement concerning future education and research goals (approximately 600 English words in length, any format)6. A letter of recommendation (English or Japanese) from one referee who is familiar with the applicant's academic skills or work experience
Selection Process:	Short-listed applicants who are residing in Japan will be asked to give a research presentation alongside an interview in Tsukuba. For short-listed applicants from outside Japan, the presentation and interview will be conducted through the Internet. Travel expenses to the University of Tsukuba will not be reimbursed.
Mailing Address for Applications:	Dean, Graduate School of Humanities and Social Sciences University of Tsukuba 1-1-1 Tennodai, Tsukuba, Ibaraki JAPAN 305-8571

Deadline for receipt: September 30 (Monday), 2019

※ Please write “Application for Constitution” in red on the front of the envelope.

※ Application materials will not be returned.

Inquiries:

E-mail: sec.shakai@un.tsukuba.ac.jp

※ Please write “Inquiries about Faculty Position of Constitution” on the e-mail title.