Requirements for Master's Degrees

The Graduate School Steering Committee reviews the academic records of students who meet all the following requirements and determines whether to award them master's degrees:

- The student has enrolled in his/her Master's Program for at least two years.
- The student has earned at least 30 credits for the courses required for a degree specified in the relevant division's detailed rules.
- The student has completed and submitted his/her master's thesis or any specific research assignment under the direction of a member of the Graduate Faculty.
- The submitted thesis or assignment has received a passing grade.
- The student has passed the final examinations.

Note that a student who has achieved excellent research results may be allowed to complete the Program earlier than scheduled (early completion, not applicable at some programs).

(Note) Students are required to earn at least 30 credits by taking the following courses.

(1) General Foundation Subjects 4 credits or more including 4 credits from the following 3 required courses

- Foundation Subjects for Major—Lectures in Design Science
- Inter-disciplinary Foundation Courses—Foundations of Comprehensive Human Sciences
- Graduate General Education Courses—Introduction to Academic Integrity

In addition to the above, courses designated by the degree program may be included in the foundation courses.

(2) Major Subjects 15 credits or more including 6 credits from Special Seminar in Design 1 and Special Seminar in Design 2

In addition to the above, it is recommended to take Inter-disciplinary Foundation Courses and Graduate General Education Courses.

•An examination of the research assignment on a specific subject may be substituted for the examination of the master's thesis.

(Note) If deemed educationally beneficial, credits earned by taking courses in other degree programs may be accepted as credits toward completion, up to a maximum of 10 credits.
