■ About class that do not have a regular class schedule

Depending on the courses, there are courses that do not have a regular class schedule as below. For the latest information such as the implementation schedule, please check KdB (12 page) or notices.

- Intensive: A style of class in which the day/period is not regular and is held on the schedule concentrated to a certain degree.
- By request: a course in which a class is conducted irregularly on an as-needed basis
- By appointment: a course in which a small class is conducted regularly but with possible date changes based on teacher–student negotiation
- NT: NT is an abbreviation of “Non-timetabled attendance is possible.” The day/period of the class has not been set; however, please refer to the recommended day/period for attendance mentioned in the syllabus and take the class as planned while focusing on the report submission deadlines. Furthermore, you may take other classes for which the day/period coincides with the recommended day/period for the attendance of NT subjects. However, if you wish to simultaneously take other subjects, please ensure to carefully plan and consider in advance whether assignments for submission, etc., are compatible.

(6) Course Numbers

Each academic course has a course number assigned by subject areas or fields for the convenience of registration. Registration will be made using course numbers.

(7) Standard Academic Year

Each course is scheduled to be taken at a specific academic year, considering the educational content and traits of each course. As a general rule, please take courses corresponding to your academic year in your program.

(10) Online Courses

(i) About Course Implementation Method

The University of Tsukuba has classified the methods of conducting classes as follows since fall semester AY 2020.

About the implementation method for each course, the plan for the beginning of the academic year is described in the remarks column in the Course Catalogue on the university homepage, and the latest information is described in the remarks column of KdB and the syllabus.

Additionally, notifications may be posted on the Web Bulletin Board (TWINS).

1. Online (Asynchronous)

The method in which students can replace the face-to-face class partly or completely by watching pre-recorded lecture videos and materials through manaba, etc., at a convenient time and place other than the classroom.

However, the period of video released and assignments are set on the assumption that you will take the course on the day listed on the Course Catalogue, so unless the case otherwise instructed, please take it on the day as much as possible.

2. Online (Synchronous)

This is a method in which the lesson is simultaneously distributed to a remote location using a web conferencing system, etc., and students participate in the class in real time at a place other than the classroom where the lesson is held.

3. Face-to-face

It is conducted face-to-face in the classroom.

4. Others

In the case that using multiple methods above is included in "Others." Please refer to the syllabus about details.

(ii) manaba

"manaba" is a learning management system that creates a course page that can be used from the web for each lesson, enabling teachers and students to share teaching materials electronically as well as to set and submit assignments. Once the course registration is completed at TWINS, you will be able to access the courses you take the next day or later. In addition to sharing teaching materials, manaba will play a central role in conducting online lessons, such as watching video files and submitting assignments.

(iii) Software and Hardware Used in Class

Our students can use various microsoft-provided services, including Teams, a groupware used in online classes, and Stream, a video distribution service. To take online classes, terminals such as personal computers, tablets, smartphones, and communication lines are required. For more information on the procedures required to take online classes, please refer to the “Online class guidance” section of the Academic Computing & Communications Center and Media Center.

(<https://www.cc.tsukuba.ac.jp/wp/remote-lecture-students/>)

(iv) Handling of Materials Used in Class

Students must not copy, reprint, or divert the materials distributed in the class without permission such as teaching materials, lecture videos, audio, etc.

(v) Regarding the Response to COVID-19

Information is posted on the university website, so please check it from time to time.
