Aim: The academic year of 2012 is the fourth year of the EDL program. The program has 51 masters and doctoral candidates from nine countries now. Last June, six students graduated from the program, and we are looking forward to another 12 candidates who will graduate this March. Most of the activities of this program, such as the training courses, domestic and international internships, EDL seminars ‘Meet the Leader’, and the EDL café and debate were productive and useful in 2012. To make more progress in 2013, the Annual Symposium will both review and evaluate our activities during 2012 and receive suggestions and comments.
